Manitoba Society of Artists presents:

ART HISTORY CONFERENCE 2011 – Visual Voice: the eternal triangle of artist, viewer, and art object.

Certainly the artist in the throes of creation, would have an intention? And the viewer would interpret, either concurring or dissenting with the artist's intention, perhaps even creating a separate interpretation of the message being viewed?

But at some point in time, the artist is removed, the viewer's viewpoint may evolve, and the message now differs. At that point, the art object stands or falls on its own merit. Or does it?

Does the artist endure in the work, does the viewer affect the validity of the art object? Are they all three independent or are they inseparable?

Presenters at this conference are:

Jan Bailey, Leona Brown, Diana Thorneycroft, Celia Rabinovitch, and Mike Attas.

As artists, curators, or art investigators, each speaker will pitch their point.

Cost is $40 member,
$45 non member.

Takes place October 22,
10am-4pm
at the
Winnipeg Art Gallery, 300
Memorial Blvd.
includes
lunch catered by Storm Restaurant.
